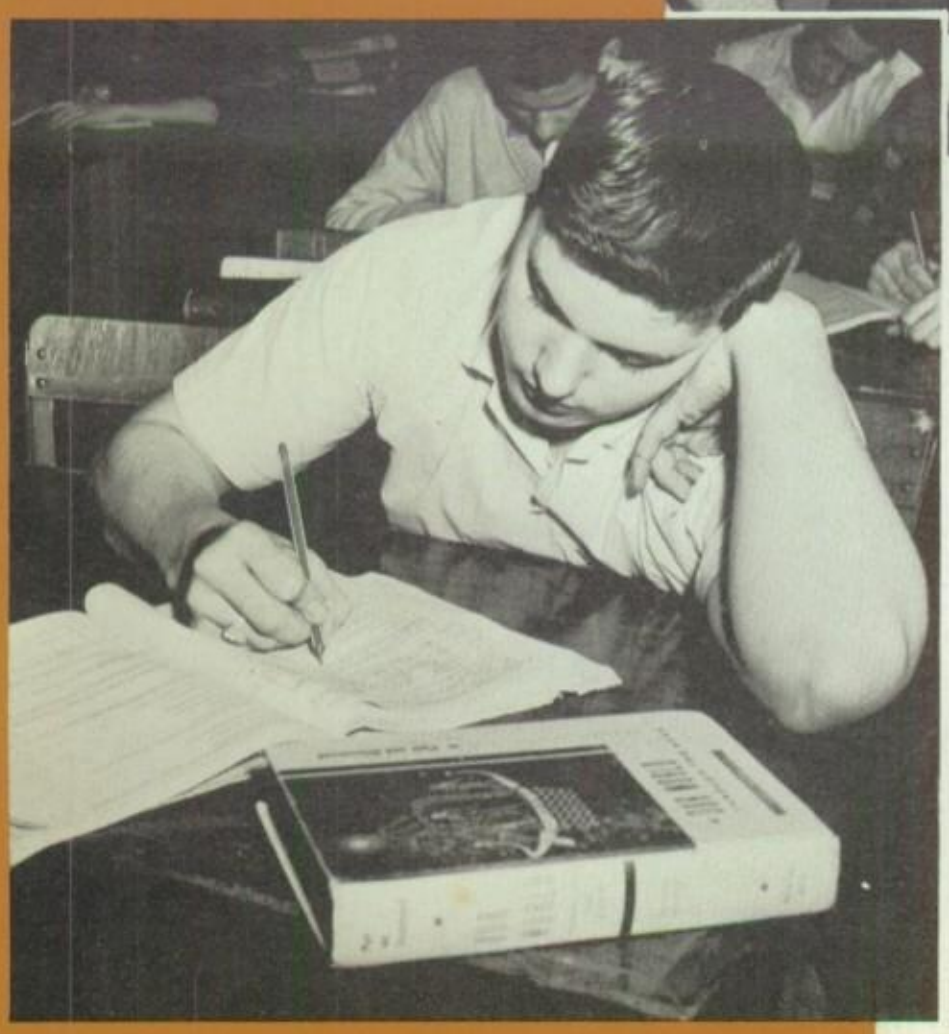
Each Student Passes Through Many

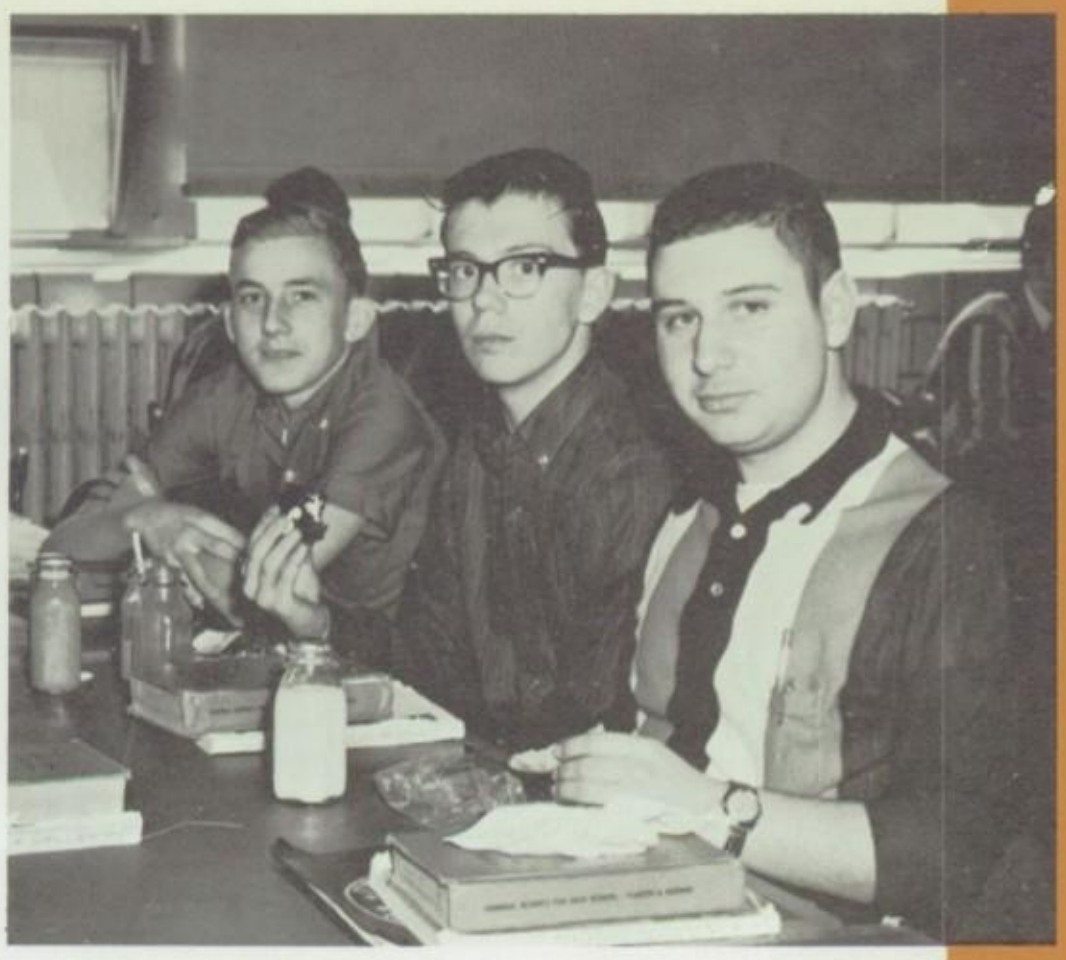
Students arrive at school, homework completed, and ready to begin a new day.

Before the toilsome day begins, these Mac-Men enjoy the company of these Whitneyites.



Many boys find the first hour a "period of adjustment" from the long night before.

"Doorways" During A Typical Schoolday



The long awaited lunch hour never comes too early for hungry Mac-Men.

Students find enjoyment through many extra activities Macomber has to offer.

Mac-Men face imaginary team during an after school practice session.

Business Adviser .....Mr. Hunt

This years staff, a small but enthusiastic group, worked hard to produce one of the best yearbooks in the history of the Craftsman. They have tried to make it a book that will review many memories. The editors would like to extend their deep thanks to all persons connected with the production of the Craftsman. Members of the staff hope that this book will be worthy of the interest and the support which the student body has given.

The members of the staff extend their sincere appreciation to their adviser Mr. Spring, who gave valuable all-around information and assistance.

The Craftsman staff under the supervision of Rich Szyskowski and Mike Robarge have tried to produce a book to surpass all previous Macomber Yearbooks. They received support from Stanley Kasubski and Gary Thompson, the Junior editors.

An accurate job of handling the many subscriptions and payments of the Craftsman were undertaken by Tom Carr under the direction of Mr. Hunt.

Advisers .....Mr. Davis
Mr. Ardner

The 1963-64 Hi-Crier was edited, printed, and published by the students of Macomber. All articles, that ranged from current news, past history, sport news, to shop news, were contributions from students. The paper proved an education in itself to all who worked on it.

This year brought many changes to the paper. Under the direction of a new adviser, Mr. Davis, articles of interest were written. For the first time the paper was distributed to all students free of charge. Once a month the Scholastic Roto was inserted in every issue.

The printing instructor, Mr. Janis, guided the printing production. Although the issues numbered few, the Hi-Crier Staff tried to produce a paper of fine quality.

The largest governing body in the school is the Student Council. Shop representatives meet and decide on matters concerning the student body.

The council gave students a very enjoyable evening at the Homecoming Festivities and the dance. During the year the Student Council sells sweat-shirts and Mac Man decals.

The Council's committees assist in working on safety week, the all-sports banquet, sock hops, and locker clean-up. The Student Council members also do area work such as Teens Against Polio and the Easter Lily Drives.

Meri-Mac Carnival Assembly

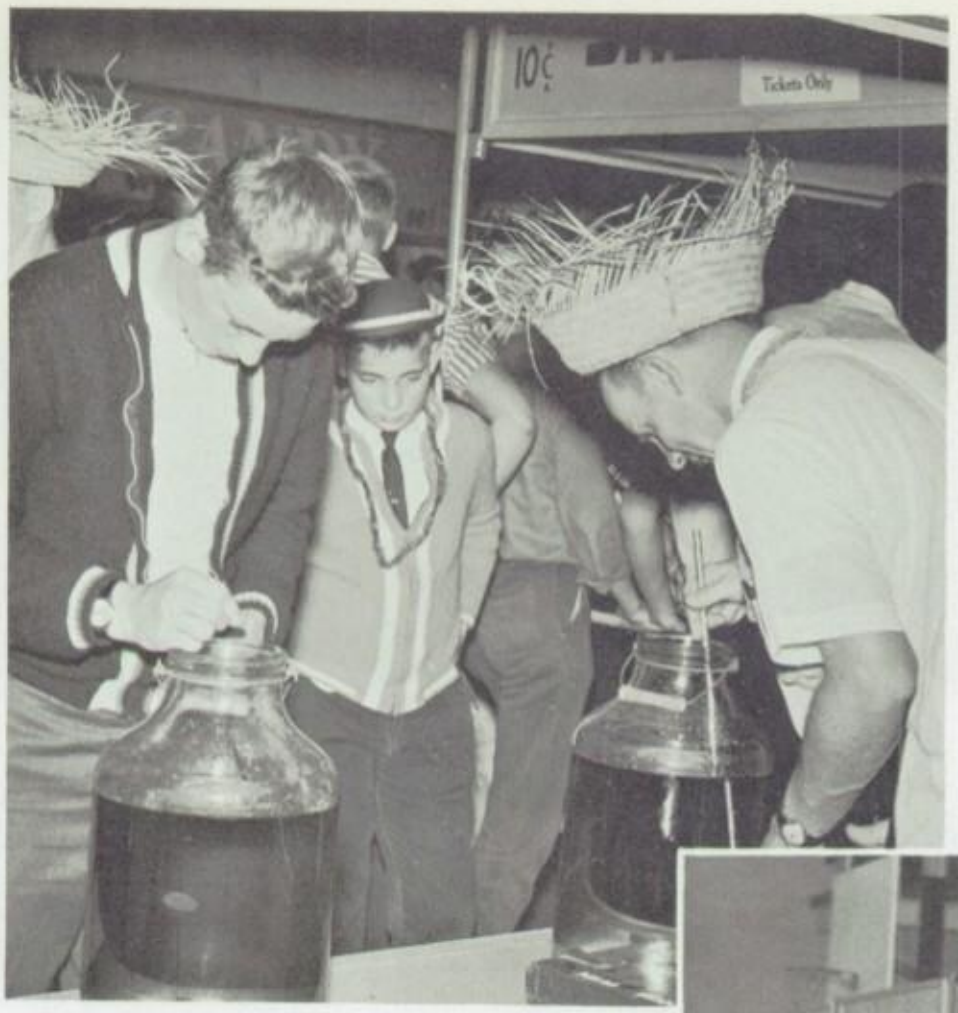
Musical entertainment was provided by students under the direction of Charles (Ringo) Jeffery.

The Meri-Mac Carnival is highlighted by the assembly. Macomber and Whitney students work hard to provide the best entertainment that is possible. From the ticket sellers the winners for the many student prizes are chosen. The first prize was a 1957 Chevrolet.

Richard Jones H-10 receives a watch for his winning slogan in the slogan contest.

A dance by these two Whitneyites helped to build an enthusiastic spirit among the students.

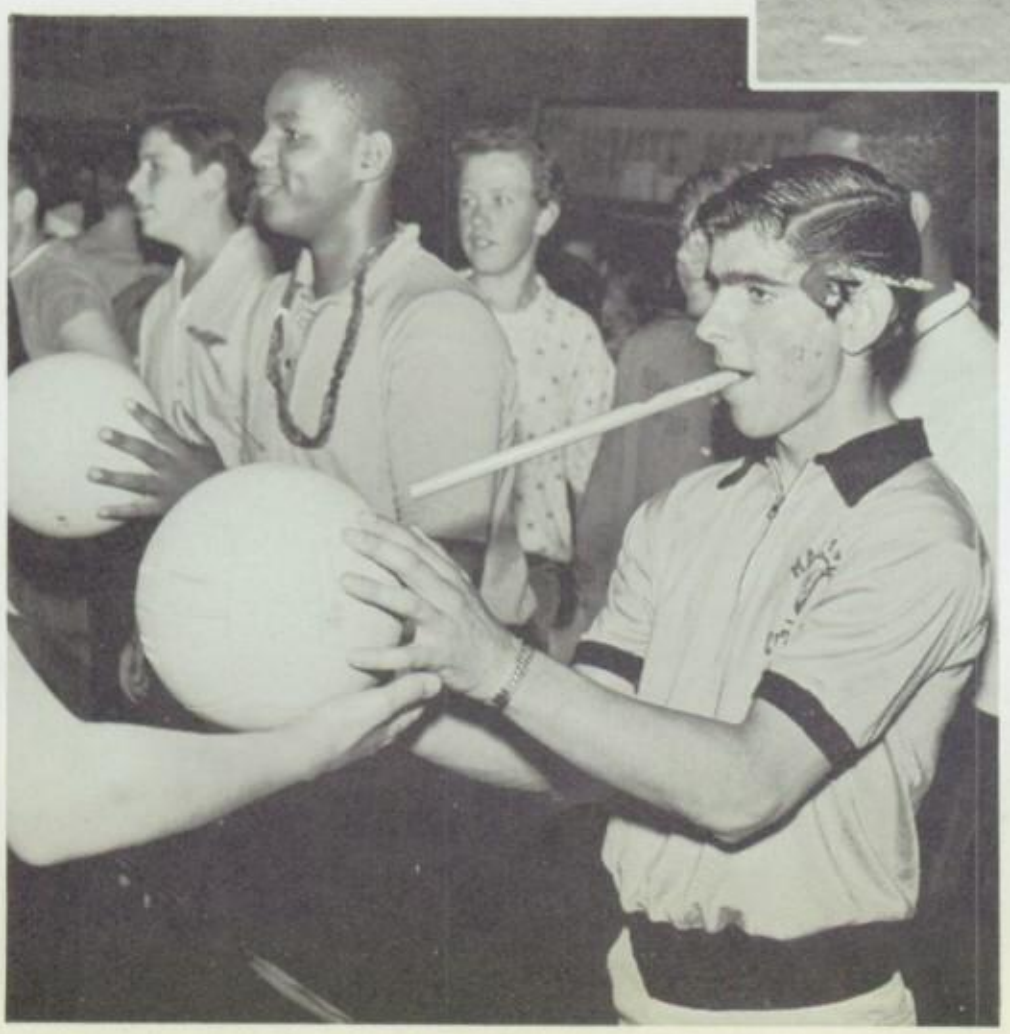
Meri-Mac Carnival



"Well there's another dime shot to H E L L!"

During the school year there are many activities in which students participate, but the Meri-Mac Carnival is for everyone. All students support the school by selling raffle tickets. The annual carnival is held early in May and the whole school enjoys the wonders of the carnival atmosphere. The profits from the carnival are used for school supplies, special shop equipment, and athletic equipment.

The crowded gym displays the carnival atmosphere.



"Step right up; there's a winner in every crowd."

And a little (6-0) sophomore, played a big part in the triumph. Ron Kreger, hitting from the outer reaches above the key, bombed in 17 points to become the co-scoring leader with Macomber veteran Calvin Lawshe.

Macomber has only one senior on the roster but Case thinks he has potentially one of the school's best shooting teams. This is a far cry from last year.

Tonight the Craftsmen bump into another unbeaten squad, St. Francis, on the Knights' cozy floor. The bubble might burst for Case and his Craftsmen, but they've had a lot of fun so far.

In fact, those basketball-purists who like to pick the outcome of games on past performances, returning lettermen, etc., took a long hard look at the Macomber schedule and figured legitimately that it might be a long dry spell before the first Macmen victory.

The experts took their lumps in a hurry, however, and Case calls his team's victory over the Tigers "one of the greatest displays of hustle I've ever seen."

The Macmen will also be busy tomorrow night as they meet Tiffin Columbian at...

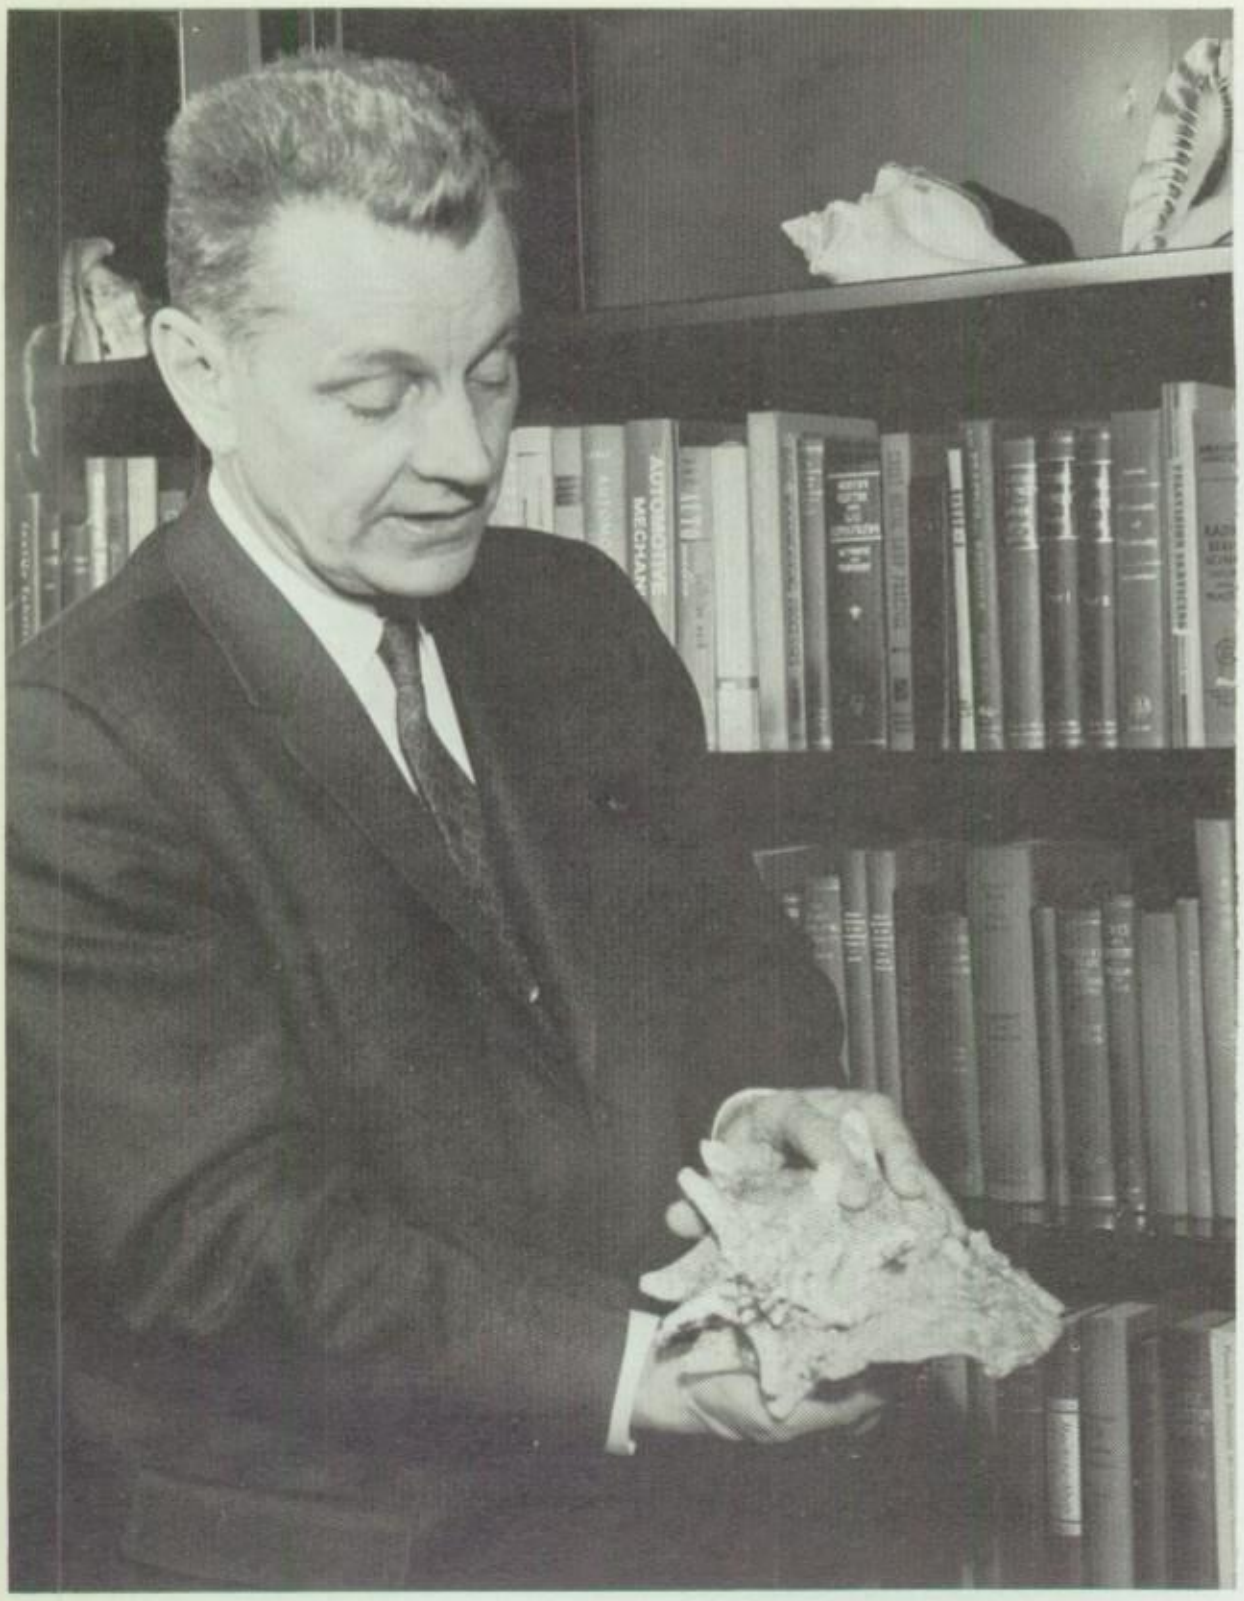
Our Principal



TO THE CLASS OF 1964: For the last twelve years you have been more or less diligently preparing yourselves to take your places as adults in our community. Responsibilities of adult citizenship involve making a living, helping to run an effective government, and getting along pleasantly with your neighbors. The four years of your high school career have included many experiences which will help you to do these three things well. The harder you have worked in both classes and extracurricular projects, the better you are prepared to cope with the problems of the adult community.

For some of you, there will be additional years of preparation and my very best wishes for success in college or technical institute go with you. For many of you, this is the end of the period of formal preparation and you will immediately take your places in business and industry. I trust that the skills and ideals which you have developed at Macomber will enable you to reach the goals you have set for yourselves.

It has been pleasant to know you and work with you during the last four years. I hope you will continue to think of yourselves as members of the Macomber family and keep in touch with us so that we may share with you your successes in life.

TO MACOMBER VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL:

I congratulate the young men of Macomber for your recognition of being prepared to make some specific contribution to the world of work. I hope that many of you will continue your education.
